Spinal Illness Attacks Four Marinites

Victims Are Recovering; Two Still Hospitalized

Marin has been hit by four cases of spinal meningitis since Feb. 28, County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht announced today.

It is the same disease that has continued to cause deaths at Fort Ord, but Marin's victims are recovering.

Hardest hit is the San Geronimo Valley, where three pupils at Lagunitas School have been stricken, two in one family, Dr. Albrecht said.

A 10-year-old girl was stricken Feb. 28 and her 12-year-old brother last Friday. Last Thurs-

County Finds Local Parks Needs Spotty

By RICHARD LYTLE

Directors of the Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday reluctantly concluded there is little correlation between the park plans of districts and cities and the June 7 county park bond issue.

Cities and special districts are to divide $2.3 million of the $4.3 million bond issue on a population basis.

Under this formula, Belvedere would receive $40,489. But Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows told the commission that Belvedere has no use for the funds.

The Marinwood Community Services District, to receive $67,080 if the bonds are passed, wrote the commission saying its development is completed, and done entirely through support of district taxpayers.

Two months ago commissioners, in anticipation of the bond proposal, asked cities and districts to list their park plans and estimate their needs.

The responses were not fully compiled until yesterday. In most cases, the cities and districts estimate financial needs far in excess of what they will receive from the bonds.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who proposed the bond issue and distribution by population, has argued that the bond money can be used as matching funds for state and federal grants.

Larkspur, however, has already protested that it plans a city bond issue to help finance its $800,000 park plan.

"The county bond proposal will delay us for a year," Robert C. Bundy, acting Larkspur city manager, told the commission yesterday. Larkspur would get $129,247 if the June 17 bonds pass.

"There does not seem to be much correlation," Commissioner Melton Ferris remarked. He recommended that the report of city and district needs be called to attention of supervisors.

"That probably would be the least bothersome," Commission Chairman Gibbs H. Lawson said.

Two districts, Marin City and Gallinas Village Community Services District did not respond to the commission's query. The former would receive $26,500 and the latter $41,925 if the bonds pass.

day a 16-year-old Larkspur girl was stricken and on Tuesday, a 13-year-old Woodacre boy.

Two of the victims are still hospitalized, Dr. Albrecht said.

"It is unusual to have cases bunch up like this," she said. Last year Marin had two cases of spinal meningitis, one in January and another in November.

Dr. Albrecht emphasized that there was no cause for panic or alarm. She said the disease is caused by a bacteria that is carried by about 20 per cent of the healthy population.

She said there have been several inquiries from San Geronimo Valley from parents wondering if they should keep their children out of school.

Dr. Albrecht's answer is "no." The disease, she said is no more contagious than strep throat. Sulfa drugs are recommended for other members of a victim's family.

Symptoms include headache, stiff neck and often vomiting and a high fever. Three of Marin's cases followed apparent influenza, she said.

Dr. Albrecht advised parents to make sure their children have recovered fully from colds or flu before sending them back to school. She advised calling the family doctor for any symptom that cannot be explained and any delay in normal recovery.

She said meningitis is fairly common in the state this time of year. There were a total of 550 cases in California last year.

Drake Opens Tournament Play Tonight

Sir Francis Drake High School's Pirates, winners in the Marin Athletic League, play McClymonds of the Oakland League at 9 o'clock tonight in the first round of the Tournament of Champions basketball class at University of California's Harmon Gymnasium, Berkeley.

Drake takes a 20-4 won-lost record into the three-day tournament against McClymonds' 16-5 mark.

Earlier games: 4:30 p.m.—Berkeley (19-10), Alameda County League, vs. Washington of Fremont (16-5), Mission Valley League; 6 p.m.—Arroyo of San Lorenzo (21-2), Hayward League, vs. Salesian of Richmond (15-6), East Bay League; 7:30 p.m.—Sonoma (19-5), North Bay League, vs. Lincoln of San Francisco (24-2).

Lincoln, McClymonds, Berkeley and Arroyo are regarded the strongest teams.

Four games will be played tomorrow at the same hours as today's schedule and three games on Saturday will complete the 20th annual event.

China Expert Pessimistic On Viet Unification Odds

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — A Harvard University Asian expert expressed strong doubt today that Communist China would ever permit any unification of Viet Nam to serve as a buffer state in Southeast Asia.

Prof. John K. Fairbank told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that a unified Viet Nam "would be a fine thing if you could get it."

"But," he said "the Chinese Communists cannot afford to let us into North Viet Nam without a fight, and we cannot afford to let the Communist Chinese into the South where they would threaten the power balance in all of Southeast Asia."

Fairbank, director of Harvard's East Asian Research Center, under questioning by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., fore-saw a military stalemate.

In a prepared statement, Fairbank proposed that the United States continue its policy of "firmness backed by force" while opening the door for Red China's "participation in the world scene."

"The Chinese are no more amenable to pure sweetness and light than are other revolutionaries," he said.

Fairbank said today "we need to encourage international contact with China on many fronts" because isolation has only increased Peking's aggressiveness.

He said, "Peking's rulers shout aggressively out of manifold frustrations. Isolation intensifies their ailment and makes it self-perpetuating."

He said that dealing with the Red rulers "is so frustrating because they are so implacably doctrinaire... Peking is not only unrealistic about us... To hear the Peking leaders talk you would think they were an offshoot of European socialism. Actually the problems they face and the methods they use are in large part inherited from Chinese history."

Fairbanks also said "we should not get too excited over Peking's vast blueprints for the onward course of the Maoist revolution."

Major Banks Raise Interest To 5.5 Pct.

NEW YORK (AP) — Major banks increased their minimum lending rate to 5½ per cent from 5 per cent today.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York initiated the boost. It was quickly followed by Bankers Trust Co. of New York and Mellon National Bank & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh.

Thomas S. Gates, chairman, and John M. Myer Jr., president of Morgan Guaranty, said the increase was "the result of disparities existing between commercial bank and other credit market rates and of a continuing increase in loan demand."

The stock market started losing ground immediately after the announcements.

The most recent previous increase in the prime rate of 5 per cent from 4½ per cent came Dec. 6, a day after the Federal Reserve Board increased to 4½ per cent from 4 per cent its discount rate—the fee Federal Reserve banks charge for loans to member commercial banks.

The Treasury declined to comment on the increase. Last fall Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler argued against bank interest rate increases. But officials haven't taken any such stand since the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate.

Soviets Stay Put On Claim Mott Took Own Life

MOSCOW (UPI) —The Soviet government ruled officially today that American tourist Newcomb Mott committed suicide.

The conclusion, presented to the American Embassy, ended a two-month "thorough investigation," promised by the Russians. It apparently did not differ from the Soviet allegation immediately after Mott died—that he killed himself aboard a train taking him to a Siberian labor camp last Jan. 20.

Mot, 27, was sentenced to 18 months in a Soviet labor camp at a Murmansk trial Nov. 24, 1965, on charges he violated the Soviet border.

Bill Would Hike Traffic Fine Split

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to increase the share of traffic fines allocated to pay for driver education was introduced today in the Assembly.

The measure by Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan, R-Chula Vista, would increase driver education's share of a $20 traffic fine from $2 to $3.

Donovan said the 1965 legislature increased requirements for school driver education classes but a bill to provide for additional funds failed to pass the Senate.

Bloodied Troops Airlifted From Captured Camp

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist North Viet regulars attacking through Laos today captured a U.S. Special Forces camp whose defenders had reached new heights of valor in a two-day battle. Only four Americans and 16 tribesmen were known to have survived.

When the battle began there were 12 or 13 Americans and 300 to 400 Montagnard and Chinese Nung tribesmen in the Special Forces camp 375 miles north-east of Saigon. Rescue helicopters flew out four wounded Americans and 16 tribesmen and pilots said no other defenders were known to be alive.

The rescued were flown to hospitals in Da Nang and Chu Lai by pilots who braved a wall of Communist fire. The others were killed or captured—unless some were able to flee into the jungle-covered mountains.

Communist gunners tonight shot down two of the helicopters sent into the camp on a rescue mission, with the apparent loss of five crewmen. One H34 crashed in flames but another helicopter rescued three of the four crewmen. The second crashed just after dark inside the perimeter of the camp and there was no chance for rescue efforts.

Three other planes had been shot down in the area earlier.

The tale of valor began unfolding when Communists estimated at 2,000 to 2,500 strong laid siege to the camp yesterday. There were feats of heroism throughout the siege and again today when the helicopters braved enemy fire and low hanging clouds to make the rescue.

CALLS DOWN

At one point a radio operator among the green-bereted defenders called down air strikes against his own position—the same tactic used by the French commander the day Dien Bien Phu fell to the Communists in 1954.

At the height of the battle Maj. Bernard Fisher of Kuna, Idaho, landed his A1E Skyraider fighter-bomber on the airstrip in a curtain of bullets and plucked from death or capture Maj. Stafford W. Myers of Newport, Wash., his wingman who had crash landed.

The Americans, and the mountain tribesmen were reported to have suffered heavy losses.

CLOUDY SKIES

During the siege when clouds prevented air strikes which might have beaten off the enemy assault daring fliers flew through the overcast and enemy fire to parachute ammunition and supplies to the defenders.

While the battle for A Shau reached its climax South Viet Nam was torn by new political strife that sent rumors of a

U.S. Eases Red Nation Trip Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson has ordered a relaxation of travel bans to permit American scholars to visit Communist China, Cuba and other Communist countries, administration sources said today.

Under the new policy scholars may apply to the State Department for special validation of their U.S. passports for travel to Red China, Cuba, Albania, North Korea and North Viet Nam.

The action leaves it up to the five countries whether to let American scholars in.

Roy A. Brown's Rites Tomorrow

Funeral for Roy Allen Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal who died yesterday morning of pneumonia, will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael.

Masonic rites conducted by Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons, will precede the service conducted by Rev. John Jefferson Canoles, former pastor of the church. Rev. Canoles will preach the funeral sermon.

Members of the Masonic lodge will be pallbearers.

Friends may call at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael until noon tomorrow.

Entombment will be private. Tributes to Brown came today from leaders in the newspaper industry throughout the state, and from Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The governor (no relation to the publisher) said: "Roy A. Brown was a publisher and community leader in the pioneer tradition of California. He made substantial contributions to California's progress through his leadership in Marin and in the state. He was a good man and a good friend, and will be missed."

Archie J. Hicks, publisher of the Encinitas Coast Dispatch and president of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn.—a position which Brown occupied in 1938—said:

"The loss of Roy Brown will be felt by his newspaper colleagues long after the momentary shock of his death wears off."

"As Roy grew in stature and success from his position as publisher of a small country weekly, his generous gifts of time, energy and financial assistance helped all newspapers grow."

"Much of the solid foundation on which California newspapers are built can be credited to the continuous interest and leadership of Roy Brown."

Similar sentiments were voiced by Lowell Jensen, publisher of the Turlock Advance and president of the California Press Assn.

"Roy was one of the most respected and likable members of our association," said Jensen, who was associated with Brown at one period in ownership of the Beverly Hills Citizen. "His helpfulness extended especially to young people who were trying to learn the business. He was an inspiration to them and a friend to everybody."

Other tributes came from the Audit Bureau of Circulations, of which Brown was a former director, and from individual publishers.

Among organizations expressing grief and sympathy over Brown's death was San Rafael Lodge 1108, B.P.O. Elks, of which he was a longtime member.

Brown was president of California Newspapers, Inc., the corporation owning the Independent-Journal, as well as the newspaper's publisher.

California Booming, Brown Says

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's prosperity is so amazing, Gov. Brown told lawmakers today, that "many are looking at California almost as a separate nation, economically."

"We are growing, thriving, prospering as no society in the history of the world," the governor said in his third annual economic report to the legislature.

His rosy outlook is expected to be a key theme of his campaign for a third term, as he credits his seven-year tour of office with paving the way for a booming economy.

RESUME SESSION

The report came as the legislature resumed its recessed budget session. Assembly Ways and Means Committee Chairman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, said he hoped subcommittees would finish work on Brown's proposed $4.61 billion spending program by next Monday.

By law, the legislature is supposed to produce a budget by April 10 when the 30-day budget session ends. However, it is probable that a special session will be needed, as usual, to reach a compromise.

AMAZING

The governor's message stressed his conviction that the state's prosperity — now in its 66th straight month — "is an amazing economic performance." And, he added, "1966 will be even better than the record year just past."

He listed these goals for the future:

"To attain the highest possible level of employment."

"To plan for the future so that in our rush to grow and build we do not destroy the quality of California life..."

To maintain educational and scientific leadership.

"To fight discrimination in all its forms..."

To continue quality government.

To diversify the state economic base, luring new business and encouraging growth of tourism and recreation.

The governor, while listing the signs of sustained development, also noted that the state still outpaces the rest of the nation in its rate of unemployment. The figures for these people, he said, "tell of welfare dependency, higher crime rates, unstable families, loss of productivity and loss of pride."

He asked why such a prosperous state still has so much joblessness, and answered:

"Our problem is not that our economy cannot or does not produce enough jobs... The basic problem—and it is more severe in California than elsewhere in the nation—is one of fitting the man to the job; fitting skills to employment requirements."

Those without jobs among all the glitter, Brown declared, "increasingly are the unskilled and the semi-skilled, while the job openings are for the skilled, the educated, the professional, the expert."

Noting the migration from other states, he explained:

"The migration is disproportionately from the southern states, where illiteracy is highest, education weakest and where the Negro... has suffered historic disadvantage..."

"The migration of non-white citizens and the younger, inexperienced members of the work force is disproportionate to their numbers in the total population."

So, the governor said, "Too many new Californians become part of the hardcore poverty and unemployment pockets of our cities, where poverty takes its greatest toll."

He again proposed that the federal government launch a nationwide program of useful jobs.

Rising prices are part of the price of prosperity, the governor said, referring specifically to food. With cheap imported farm help gone for good, he said, "slightly higher food prices" are to be expected and accepted.

Hitting another sometime problem area, Brown also found "strong, mounting and dramatic evidence that the aerospace industry is entering a new era of diversification and production for a world at peace." But he also noted the strong economic stimulus in California from the Viet Nam war.

Democrats' Primary Fuss Raising Republican Hopes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The promise of a bitter fight for the party's governorship nomination punctured Democratic plans for a peaceful primary today and cheered Republicans seeking political control of the nation's most populous state.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, seeking a third term, replied angrily to the challenge of Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, who said yesterday he will try to take the nomination away from Brown.

"I think he's in the wrong party's primary, but I accept the challenge," Brown told 2,500 Democrats last night at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner.

Yorty, known as a maverick

Democrat who supported Republican Richard M. Nixon for President in 1960, accused Brown's seven-year-old administration of "shoddy machine politics."

Republicans—split by a fight for the GOP gubernatorial nomination — were happy about the Democrats' squabble — something Brown had been hoping to avoid.

"This is one more indication of the division in Democratic ranks which has become very obvious in the past few weeks," said former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, one of three candidates for the GOP nomination.

His major foe, actor Ronald Reagan, said Yorty's candidacy offers Democrats an alternative to Brown. He added it "might bring out once and for all the answer as to whether the incumbent really intends to be governor of California if he is elected."

William Penn Patrick, San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer and the third candidate in the GOP race, said "it is good to see that the Democrats have not swallowed... Brown's hogwash."

The governor opened his attack with a statement that Yorty's campaign will be financed largely by "Republicans supporting other Republican candidates."

He continued at the campaign dinner, saying, "I warn Mr. Yorty right now that he will have to explain his record of attacks on Democrats like John F. Kennedy and his failure as mayor of Los Angeles."

"He is going to have to explain his failure to do anything meaningful about rising crime, smog, traffic, rapid transit and a host of other social problems," said Brown. "They were all there when he took office in 1961. They are still there."

"Now, the candidate wants to transfer his failures to Sacramento."

Roger Kent of Kentfield, former state Democratic chairman who is now helping with Brown's campaign, called Yorty "one of the most unprincipled men I have known."

Chicago Airport Is The Busiest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago's O'Hare International Airport was the busiest in the nation last year, reports the Federal Aviation Agency.

The FAA said its 292 airport traffic control towers handled a total of 37.9 million take-offs and landings in 1965, 11 per cent more than in 1964 and a record.

O'Hare accounted for a total of 519,430 landings and take-offs. Other top leaders: Kennedy, 389,047; Los Angeles International, 366,531; and Washington National, 307,839.

The Novato Fire District Board, with Joseph Silveira absent because of illness, last night reviewed the nomination papers of Peter Ferrarese to succeed himself and voted it did not need to hold an election as there was only one candidate for the position.

Heart Attack Kills Klansman

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP)—William Orville Eaton, 41, one of three Ku Klux Klansmen charged with the murder in the slaying of civil rights worker Viola Gregg Liuzzo, died of a heart attack today.

Eaton reportedly was stricken at his home early today and was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Eaton and fellow Klansmen Eugene Thomas of Bessemer and Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., of Fairfield, all of the Birmingham area, were convicted by a federal court in Montgomery last fall of conspiring to violate the constitutional rights of persons taking part in 1965 voter-rights demonstrations.

They were sentenced to 10 years each. Their attorney said an appeal is planned.

The state indicted the three for murder last year in the slaying of Mrs. Liuzzo.

Food Rioters Burn Station, Train In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Food rioters set fire to an express train and a railway station outside Calcutta today and threw up barricades and stoned police units in the city.

The mobs turned wild after police killed a student demonstrator. About 10 persons were reported killed in the rampage of rioting and arson.

India is gripped by a food shortage and many agitators, particularly leftists, have been stirring up anti-government demonstrations charging it has failed to deal adequately with the problem.

Much of West Bengal State, of which Calcutta is the capital, was in the grips of a general strike demanding more food.

Railway tracks were ripped up in many places and some demonstrators squatted in front of trains to prevent them from moving.

Junior Colleges' Building Budget Hiked $2.5 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An Assembly Ways and Means subcommittee has approved $10 million for 1966-67 junior college construction, $2.5 million more than recommended in Gov. Brown's budget.

The approval came yesterday after the Department of Education argued the State Finance Department's recommendation of $7.5 million for junior college construction was inadequate to meet booming enrollment.

MERIT PAY BILL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. George Miller wants to install a merit pay system for rewarding outstanding state employees.

Miller, D-Martinez, introduced legislation yesterday that would allow the State Personnel Board to review merit raises for civil service employees. Currently, the state's 153,000 workers get across-the-board increases.

Miller's measure also would eliminate standard pay boosts for varying classes of state employees. Instead, individual merit would determine pay hikes.

BONDS PROPOSED

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown's legislation authorizing a $260 million local school construction bond issue has been introduced in the Assembly.

Assemblyman Carlos Bee, D-Hayward, put the bill in yesterday. If it wins legislative passage, the bond issue will be before the voters in the June 7 primary election.

Gas Fear Forces Residents Away

CHARLEMONT, Mass. (UPI) — All 1,200 residents of this northwestern Massachusetts farming community were evacuated today while railroad crews were putting a derailed Boston and Maine Railroad tank car of deadly chlorine back on the tracks.

State troopers and volunteer firemen, going from door to door and alerting other residents by telephone, said families were moved out as a precautionary step. The chlorine was not leaking.

Chlorine, a gas in its natural state, is compressed into a liquid for transportation. As soon as exposed to air, it changes back to a gas. It is highly toxic and in large enough quantities can cause death.

The armed services need 4,500 nurses. They may be men or women.

Another Candidate In Controller Race

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Bert De Lotto, 46, Fresno County supervisor and former assemblyman, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for state controller.

De Lotto termed himself a "rock the boat" candidate and said attacks on Controller Alan Cranston's handling of the state inheritance tax appraiser system would be the keystone of his campaign.

Widow Sues, Charges Cremation Too Hasty

A 60-year-old Mill Valley widow yesterday filed a $25,000 suit in San Mateo County Superior Court against a Colma cemetery firm whose actions in cremating her husband may have, she contends, imperiled his soul.

Mrs. Genevieve Gautier filed the suit. Named as defendants were the Olivet Memorial Park Cemetery Assn. and two of its employees, W. Honeywell and E. E. Moore.

The Gautier family belongs to a Buddhist sect which believes the body does not leave the soul for 72 hours after death. Therefore, when Albert Charles Gautier died in April, 1962, his War In Korea To Balance Viet Nam?

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A Belgrade radio correspondent broadcasting from Moscow was quoted by Radio Free Europe here as saying Communist China wants to reactivate the Korean War as a counterbalance to the war in Viet Nam.

RFE, a privately financed American radio station which broadcasts to Iron Curtain countries, said correspondent Milka Sundic told his listeners in a broadcast heard here Tuesday there had been many recent reports of incidents in the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

"Diplomatic observers in the Soviet capital are inclined to interpret the worsening of the situation on the Korean peninsula as a component part of the general circumstances prevailing in Southeast Asia," Sundic said.

"Thus, the possibility that Korea might once again become an area of armed conflict is being pointed to."

Planner Tells Of Lake Study

Harvey E. Bragdon, Mill Valley planning director, yesterday reported to the chamber of commerce board progress and studies being made in connection with the proposed William A. Hamilton flood control lake, the federal 701 fund planning program for city business areas, and the proposed extension of Miller Avenue as a four-lane highway from Almonte Boulevard to Highway 101.

Chamber treasurer Clyde E. Beasley was named chairman of the budget committee for fiscal year 1967, reported secretary-manager Granville L. Beedle. Others on the committee are Guido Todaro, Peter W. Tibbets, Charles J. Francis and Beedle.

The board adjourned its meeting in honor of Roy A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal, who died yesterday.

Beauty Shop Looted

Four louvered panes of glass were removed from a window in the front of the Crompton Hair Stylist shop at 933 D Street, San Rafael, and a thief entered and removed $20 in cash from a drawer of a desk, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

coup d'etat seething through Saigon.

Reliable sources said Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, in a demonstration of his own strength, had ousted the most powerful general in the South Vietnamese army from his command. The ousted general was Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Thi, commander of the First Corps and long considered the most powerful man outside the government—the man in best position to lead any possible new coup.

The bad weather which proved fatal to the Special Forces camp also cut down on the American air effort against Communist North Viet Nam. A spokesman said only 22 missions were carried out Wednesday. Today's effort will not be announced for 24 hours.

Camp A Shau is barely 60 miles from the big air base at Da Nang but the pilots there were helpless because of the weather. The end was announced by Col. William McKean, commanding officer of the 5th Special Forces in Viet Nam.

"We closed Camp A Shau at 17:45 this afternoon," he said, tersely.

Clausen Backs Fishing Limit

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, California, joined today in support of a bill to establish a 12-mile limit of United States jurisdiction over fishing off the U.S. coasts.

Exclusive U.S. jurisdiction is now limited to three miles.

"I see no reason why we should allow foreign fishing vessels to strip these waters of their rich harvest, particularly when our fleet is barred from the coastal waters of the lands from which these vessels come," said Clausen.

Ex-Felon Lonely, May Get Wish

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An ex-convict who said he was lonely got a probable return to San Quentin Prison today.

Gilbert R. Francis, 31, has worked occasionally as a kitchen helper since he was released in January from San Quentin, where he had served eight years of a robbery sentence.

He showed up at the Hall of Justice today with three bags of marijuana, told narcotics officers "I know it is illegal," but "I'm lonely."

Sentence Date Set In Mischief Case

Larry Angelo Pauza, 28, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court today to malicious mischief at the Sweet Shop, 675 Bridgeway, Sausalito, on Feb. 11. He will be sentenced March 31.

Pauza, of 501 Bridgeway, originally was charged with attempted burglary. The felony complaint was dismissed on grounds of insufficient evidence following his plea to the lesser charge before Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr.

Collision Causes Bruises, Scrapes

Linda Bissel, 23, of 2457 Mar East Street, Tiburon, was treated for a bruised mouth and scraped right knee at San Rafael General Hospital after her car struck the rear of one driven by Wanda E. McMurry, 468 Pinewood Drive, San Rafael, about 5 p.m. yesterday in San Rafael.

Police reported both cars were eastbound on Freitas Parkway near Del Presidio Boulevard when Mrs. McMurry's car stopped for traffic and was hit from the rear.

High School Officer Corps Set In Novato

Novato High School today was chosen as one of 10 high schools in the United States for a pilot Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps program, it was announced in Washington, D.C.

Under the proposal by the Air Force, which was accepted Feb. 8 by the Novato Unified School District Board, the course would be limited to 100 boys. They would receive three periods of astronomy, space and aero-space sciences for every one of drill.

The instructor would be selected by the district from a list furnished by the Air Force. He would be an authority on aero-space sciences. The district would pay half his salary. The Air Force would furnish uniforms and a sergeant to keep track of them.

Novato High School was chosen because of its proximity to Hamilton Air Force Base.

Search Continues Search Ended

Four Coast Guard boats yesterday searched the water between the Marin coast and the Farallon Islands, aided by a helicopter which was used to search the Marin coastline, for the body of a messman from the freighter Alice Brown.

The crewman disappeared from the ship as it headed toward San Francisco. His identity was not made public. The search was suspended at dusk and not resumed today.

The ship, returning from Saigon, docked at Todd Shipyards in Alameda.

Superior Court Gets Theft Case

Shirley Anne Ogletree, alias Shirley Johnson, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of petty theft with a prior conviction.

The defendant, of San Francisco, allegedly took three women's suits from Montgomery Ward and Co., in Corte Madera on Jan. 31.

She was convicted of petty theft in Contra Costa County on March 19, 1965, and again in that county Aug. 28, 1965.

Jail Term Given In Truck Theft

Fred Richard Jones, 18, was given a suspended prison term on condition that he serve six months in county jail yesterday in Marin Superior Court for theft of a pickup truck.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner also placed Jones, of 251 Drake Avenue, Marin City, on two years' probation. The defendant stole a vehicle owned by John Friend, 25 Rocklyn Court, Corte Madera, last Sept. 1. He was arrested in San Francisco.

High School Burglar Takes Costly Camera

A thief broke into three shops at San Rafael High School, police learned yesterday, and from one stole a Polaroid camera worth $200.

Police said offices of the three shops were ransacked, and wooden storage lockers pried open. The camera was in a locker in the metal shop. A $12 transistor radio and $20 worth of hand tools were taken from another shop, and the third shop, although entered, had nothing missing.

Vehicle Stolen

Howard R. Vail of Bolinas Road, Fairfax, told San Rafael police yesterday his 1957 Mercury white and beige station wagon had been stolen from the parking lot at 182 Belvedere Street, San Rafael.

REP. JOHN BALDWIN Dies of cancer

OBITUARIES

John F. Baldwin Dies At 50

MARTINEZ (AP) — John F. Baldwin, a Republican who represented California's Democratic Contra Costa County in Congress, died of cancer last night in Bethesda Naval Hospital near Washington.

Baldwin, 50, had served in Congress since 1954.

Hospitalized two weeks ago with a broken leg, he nevertheless announced he would be a candidate for re-election and his attorney was ready to file his nomination papers.

California Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie, D-Antioch, who has been mentioned as a potential candidate for the seat, called Baldwin "a good congressman and a good friend."

"I'm sick about it," he added.

Waldie said he was making no plans to run. He was told of the death while attending a campaign dinner in San Francisco for Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Baldwin was born in Oakland, on June 28, 1915. He was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1935 and earned a law degree there in 1949 after five years service in the Army. He rose from private to lieutenant colonel.

He practiced law in Martinez before he was elected to the House in a close race against Democrat Robert Condon.

Considered a middle-of-the-road Republican, Baldwin was the ranking Californian on the House Public Works Committee. Interested in highway beautification, he pushed legislation providing for landscaping beside freeways.

In 1960, he was cited for outstanding achievement by the non-partisan council of the California Recognition Plan. The citation said he was "generally credited with possessing one of the most careful and precise minds in the House."

MRS. LOVISCO

Trustees Set Funds For Library Books

Bolinas-Stinson School District trustees last night earmarked $3,000 for library books for the district's library in Bolinas School in preliminary discussion of the fiscal 1967 budget.

The board also agreed tentatively to raise teachers' salaries next fiscal year by 3 per cent and other employees salaries by 5 per cent. It agreed to lease a portable classroom at Stinson Beach School, for the third year, for $2,160 and set aside $1,000 to furnish the new Bolinas School classroom now under construction.

Clerk Arthur E. Carpenter said old furniture will be used when the classroom is ready for use in May or June, but new furniture will be purchased for start of school in September.

Neither a tax rate nor the preliminary overall budget figure was discussed, said the clerk.

John Collingwood was seated at the close of the meeting as new trustee, succeeding Mrs. Mildred Haraldsen of Bolinas.

Defensive Car Driving Is Stressed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Defensive driving — as protection against "the unpredictable actions of human beings" — was stressed today at the California Safety Congress.

"The necessity of defensive driving—expecting other drivers to make mistakes and being prepared for them — must be brought to people in all walks of life," Ken Hultgren, field representative of the National Safety Council, told the meeting.

He said the National Safety Council is making a safe driving course available to millions of Americans.

The same theme was emphasized by Eric Mohr, supervising transportation engineer for the California Public Utilities Commission, who said:

"Highway engineers face a continuing challenge in building roadways, a complex challenge, because of the unpredictability of human beings."

Newstat Queried On Trips, Private School During Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A defense attorney in San Francisco Assessor Russell Wolden's bribery trial wants to know where a key prosecution witness got money for trips abroad and private school tuition.

James Martin MacInnis, attorney for Wolden, asked yesterday where Max J. Newstat, former aide in the assessor's office, got the money to send his daughter to private schools and his family on trips.

Newstat has testified that Wolden, who faces 10 counts of bribery and one of conspiracy, accepted bribes in exchange for cuts in tax assessments for several large firms.

Wolden has denied the accusations.

MacInnis asked about the Katherine Delmar Burke school, which the lawyer said cost $700 a semester, when Newstat's daughter attended it.

MacInnis also questioned the witness about a family trip to Hawaii in 1962, a European tour for his daughter, Elizabeth, 18, and his wife, and a year's schooling for Elizabeth in Switzerland.

Newstat testified he had taken several trips to Las Vegas "for relaxation, to gamble and to see the shows."

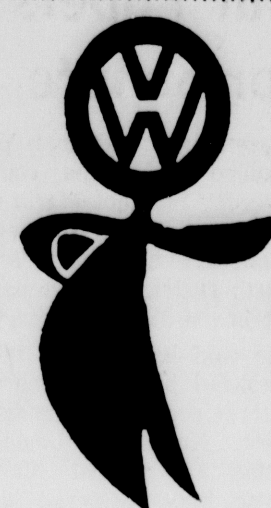

Newstat did not explain where the funds came from.

MacInnis read into the court record Newstat's salary for the past several years: $600 a month in 1955 up to $1,116 a month last year.

Mirata Heads Board Of Sanitary District

Fred Mantegani, who made the motion at Monday night's meeting of the Tiburon Sanitary District Board to discontinue work with the engineering firm of Kennedy Engineers on a sludge disposal filter, is not chairman of the board, as he was incorrectly identified in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Chairman of the Tiburon board is Angelo P. Mirata, who with Director Francis Ryan voted against the motion. Supporting Mantegani in voting the discontinuance were Directors James Murray and Randolph J. Esplin.

SENATOR BATTLES TAX BILL CHANGE

Prouty Defies Administration Efforts To Knock Out Social Security Rider

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., said today that if his proposal for broadened Social Security coverage is knocked out of President Johnson's tax bill, he will launch a campaign to reinstate it.

Prouty's proposal, which the Senate added to the tax bill this week, was one of two amendments the administration battled to knock out as Senate-House conferees met on the measure.

At Prouty's urging, the Senate voted Tuesday to provide Social Security payments to 1.8 million persons over 70 not now covered. The addition would cost an estimated $750 million a year.

The Senate voted also to retain the present 3 per cent excise on local residential telephone service, reinstating the old 10 per cent tax only on long distance calls.

Together, the two amendments would knock more than $1 billion from the net increase of $6 billion Johnson asked to help finance the Viet Nam war.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he had been advised the House conferees would stand firm against the two changes.

But Prouty vowed: "If the committee bows to administration pressure . . . I shall take my case to the people."

Major provisions in the bill are reimposition of taxes on phone calls and car sales that were cut Jan. 1, a graduated withholding system for collection of personal income taxes and a speedup in payment of corporation taxes.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., predicted the Senate conferees would abandon the two amendments "before they get to the rotunda." The Senate conferees pass through the rotunda in the center of the Capitol on the way to meet the House group.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., charged that the President had sent up a "picayune bill" not geared to meet the government's needs in the war crisis.

Foreign Aid Critics Take Beating In Senate Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—In swift double-barreled action, the Senate passed today two bills asked by President Johnson to provide more economic aid for South Viet Nam and to authorize additional spending for the war there.

First, by an 82-2 vote, the Senate passed a bill meeting the President's request for $415 million additional in foreign aid for Viet Nam and other Asian and Latin-American trouble spots.

Then by voice vote it gave final approval and sent to the White House a bill authorizing expenditures of $4.8 billion for the procurement of military hardware to support U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

The military authorization measure, a compromise of legislation previously passed by each branch of Congress, had been passed earlier in the day by the House.

Senate and House differences on the military authorization measure were minor and unanimously adjusted by a conference committee.

The $415-million foreign bill now goes back to the House to resolve minor differences between it and a similar bill previously passed by the House.

The two Senate votes against it were cast by Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska.

The main argument against it had been presented by Morse, chief Capitol Hill critic of administration policy in Southeast Asia and Latin America.

Morse told the Senate he opposes the bill because it "violates in my judgment our system of checks and balances."

However, Morse offered only one amendment to the measure. It was a move to cut in half the $25-million authorization for the Dominican Republic. The aim of his move, Morse said, was to try to bring the Organization of American States into the financing of the Dominican operation and thus to avoid the appearance that the United States is intervening alone. His amendment was crushed 75-7.

The measure also authorizes money for Laos and Thailand as well as for the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam, but most of the funds — $275 million — are ticketed for Viet Nam.

Acting as floor manager for the bill as a replacement for Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Foreign relations Committee chairman who is a sharp critic of U.S. southeast Asia policy, Sparkman delivered the principal administration argument. Fulbright said he has no enthusiasm for the measure which altogether provides for $415 million in emergency foreign aid, including money for the Dominican Republic where Fulbright also dislikes the U.S. stand.

Thanks Expressed To Ex-Commissioner

Mrs. Adela J. Alpers of San Rafael, replaced on the county park and recreation commission by supervisors Tuesday, was thanked for her long service, board Chairman Byron W. Leydecker said today.

Leydecker said he sent a letter of thanks to Mrs. Alpers Monday. The letter also said that he intended to appoint Howard Council of Marinwood to the new term. When the board took that action Tuesday, there was no suggestion that Mrs. Alpers be thanked.

Young Takes Out Papers For Senate

Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Solano and Napa counties, yesterday took out Marin County petition papers to seek the Democratic nomination for the Fourth District state senatorial post in the June 7 primary.

He said he plans to file the completed papers March 17 in all three counties of the district, Marin, Napa, and Solano. Young, who named Novato mayor Robert Carrow as his verification deputy in Marin County, seeks the nomination to oppose State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, in the November general election.

The 41-year-old assemblyman has represented Napa and Solano counties for four years.

Filing for the Marin County Republican Central Committee, District 4, was William Arthur Henderson Jr., 37, of 2 Palm Court, Larkspur. He is a salesman.

James J. Crumpacker, 30, of 386 Holly Drive, San Rafael, filed for the Republican Central Committee, District 1. Crumpacker is in public relations.

Tax Office Telephone Bugs Exterminated?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The commissioner of Internal Revenue said today that the western region no longer monitors taxpayer calls for income tax information.

Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen said the monitoring, which had been used to check on the efficiency of employees, has been stopped on the West Coast pending clarification of its legality by local authorities.

More Patrolmen, Fewer Crashes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Doubling the number of patrolmen on a 36-mile strip of highway decreased the number of injury accidents by more than 20 per cent, the California Highway Patrol commissioner said yesterday.

The commissioner, Bradford M. Crittenden, spoke at the California Safety Congress which is sponsored by the Northern California Safety Councils and the California Traffic Safety Foundation.

For survey purposes, he said, 36 patrolmen were assigned during 1964 to Slaughter Alley on U.S. Highway 101 between San Clemente and Del Mar.

Despite an 8 per cent increase in the number of vehicles, accidents decreased 12 per cent.

Citizen Ideas To Be Evaluated

Chairmen of the six panels participating Saturday in the first San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress agreed last night that they will need two weeks to evaluate recommendations made during the congress.

A meeting was set for 8 p.m. on March 23 at the San Anselmo City Hall for appointment of an "action" committee to follow up the congress, reported Donald C. Perry, general chairman.

The committee, said Perry, will be sponsored by San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce and will be charged with making transcripts of recommendations of the congress and passing them on to the civic groups which might be able to carry them out, he said.

Ammunition Accidents Being Checked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three mysterious accidents involving ammunition to be used by U.S. forces, some of it bound for Viet Nam, remained unsolved today.

There was no clear indication from investigating federal officials that the widely scattered incidents involving armament were at all related. All three occurred yesterday, in New Jersey, New Mexico and Arkansas.

In Washington, the Army said it was investigating all three incidents, but declined comment when asked if sabotage might be involved.)

At Corning, Ark., early in the day, a Missouri Pacific freight train's two carloads of 177-mm. artillery shells blew up, gouging a huge crater in the ground.

The cause "may never be known," said a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent.

At Logan in New Mexico, a Rock Island freight with ammunition for Viet Nam and blasting powder was derailed. The ammunition cars of the crack Gold Streak freight were roped off and guarded by state police. Five of its seven engines were wrecked. Belts of machinegun cartridges were wrapped around bushes along the tracks. Officials said the train derailed when it hit a flatbed truck stalled on the tracks.

At the Picatinny Arsenal in Dover, N.J., two men died in the explosion of several newly developed bombs being assembled for use in Viet Nam. A four-man federal board of inquiry has been summoned to investigate the series of chain-reaction blasts and a fire that followed. The men were loading small bombs that eventually were to have been sent to the Air Force in Viet Nam.

Braden Still Schools Chief

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thomas W. Braden, publisher of the Oceanside Blade-Tribune, was re-elected president of the State Board of Education today.

William A. Norris of Pasadena, who practices law in Los Angeles, was elected vice president in the first officer change since 1961.

Norris joined the board in 1961. He succeeds the retired Raymond J. Daba of Atherton.

The election was prompted by Gov. Edmund G. Brown's appointment of Dr. Miguel Montes of Los Angeles, a new member, to the board. State law requires a reorganization election each time a new member is named to the board.

Brown also reappointed Mrs. Seymour Mathiesen of Fresno and Dorman L. Commons of Fullerton to four-year terms.

Ex-Alameda Auditor Tells Of Selling Tax Information

OAKLAND (UPI)—A former auditor in the Alameda County assessor's office testified yesterday that he was paid for information from tax files which he gave to a tax consultant.

The witness, Michale J. McLaughlin, said he received the fees for giving consultant James C. Tooke the information that certain taxpayers had been double-assessed on property. Questioning brought out that one such fee was $833.

Tooke later turned up as a consultant seeking reduction of the assessments for the firms involved, on an agreement with the firms that he would receive a percentage of any tax savings.

McLaughlin was testifying in the trial of Assessor Donald E. Feragen on charges of bribe taking. McLaughlin is also under indictment in connection with the assessment scandal. His testimony yesterday was given under questioning by defense attorneys for Feragen, who has denied the charges.

Condition Poor

William P. Simmons, 46, of San Rafael, was reported today still in poor condition at Marin General Hospital, but semiconscious. He has been at the hospital in a coma since Feb. 23, when he was found unconscious in a San Francisco street.

H-Bomb Sought In Deeper Seas

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP)—A U.S. Navy task force is shifting to deeper waters off the Spanish coast in its search for a missing hydrogen bomb.

"We may be here for a considerable time," Rear Adm. William Guest, task force commander, told newsmen yesterday.

His 15 ships are searching a 120-square-mile area of the Mediterranean. Navy officials said. The missing H-bomb was aboard a B-52 bomber which collided with a jet tanker plane Jan. 17.

Cheers, Protests Mingle As Princess Weds German

Some Officials, Rabbis Boycott Dutch Wedding

AMSTERDAM. The Netherlands (UPI) — Crown Princess Beatrix, blonde heir to the throne of The Netherlands, was married today to a German diplomat whose German army ties chilled some Dutch hearts and brought unruly outbursts from young toughs.

But if the dimple cheeked 28-year-old princess saw or felt any of the resentment, she gave no sign and smiled radiantly as she gave her "ja" (yes) to wed her handsome German, 39-year-old Claus von Amsberg.

BEATNIKS ROUTED

Before the civil ceremony in Amsterdam's Town Hall Club swinging police broke up a "beatnik" mob of 500 youths shouting "fascists." There seemed to be no generally organized demonstrations against the wedding in this nation of 12.4 million.

Deep-seated were the memories of many Dutchmen of years of brutal Nazi occupation during World War II and the deportation and killing of 100,000 Jews from this city alone.

The two chief rabbis refused to attend the religious ceremony in the 17th century Westerkerk which was following the simple civil ceremony. Twenty-one of the 45 members of the Amsterdam City Council boycotted the controversial wedding.

MOST WISH WELL

But the majority of the nation wished their tall, strong-minded princess well in her marriage to Von Amsberg, a former member of the German army and of the Hitler Youth.

With his "ja," he became her husband, a prince of the Netherlands, a future consort to a queen when Beatrix ascends the throne and a member of one of the richest families in the world. The ruggedly handsome former German diplomat receives an annual allowance of $80,000.

Twenty-four motorcycle outriders and splendidly uniformed horsemen from the 11 Dutch provinces escorted the wedding couple, riding in a massive royal golden coach drawn by six black horses and attended by a dozen footmen in tri-cornered hats.

Along the 2.5 mile wedding route stood 1,300 state police, 1,700 military police and 1,000 city police, holding back generally orderly crowds a dozen deep.

Some 12,000 troops formed a ceremonial guard—and a deterrent in case of actual trouble. Loud cheers greeted the couple's stately passage but in back streets a half mile distant from the wedding route, screaming "provos," disorderly youths, exploded smoke bombs. Clashes with the police were reported.

Most of the shouting provos—so named from the word provocation—were not even born when Holland was suffering its occupation agonies more than 20 years ago and Amsterdam's respected Jewish colony was hauled off the Nazi gas ovens.

Manufacturers say auto air conditioners should be turned on occasionally during the winter season.

Pneumonia, Flu Deaths Outpace 1965

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pneumonia and influenza killed 142 persons last week in 11 California areas with a total population of 5.8 million, the State Department of Health reported yesterday.

The figure for the areas checked is 90 larger than for a comparable period in 1965, the department added in its first report on a state epidemic of Type A Asian flu.

The 142 figure compares to 81 for the week ending Feb. 26 and 51 for the week preceding that, said Dr. Lester Breslow, state health director.

Dr. Breslow said the epidemic's peak apparently has passed in most of the state but that 15 counties still reported large numbers of cases. Hardest hit at present are Humboldt and Del Norte counties, he added.

Airlines Try To Identify Japanese Crash Victims

TOKYO (AP)—James Wilson, British Overseas Airways Corp. manager for Japan, said today about half of the 124 bodies from the airline's Boeing 707 crash on Mt. Fuji have been identified, including 41 of the 89 American victims.

He said there had been no decision on when the bodies would be shipped home but that scheduled commercial airliners would be used. The plane crashed on Saturday some 80 miles south of Tokyo.

Edwin Ogden, Far East manager of Canadian Pacific Airlines, said a Canadian Air Force plane would leave Saturday with some of the bodies from the crash of a CPA DC-8 Friday night. The plane could carry some of the BOAC North American victims if this was requested, he said.

Ogden said 32 of the 64 CPA crash victims have been identified and 10 have already been sent to their home countries. Seven Americans died in that crash.

A mortuary officer at the base indicated it might take several days to identify all the bodies.

Dental charts, scar information and other material have been sent from the United States to help in the task.

The officer said personal effects, blood types and physical characteristics were among the means used for identification.

The U.S. Air Force said four airmen were sent to the Mt. Fuji crash scene to help collect the personal effects of the American victims.

BOAC announced a list of American crash victims whose bodies have been identified. On it these Californians:

Reginald F. Freestone, San Francisco.
John J. Markovitch, Modesto.
Neil K. Hulbert, Eureka.
Philip Rosenberg, Los Angeles.

Aide Promoted To Smog Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Brown appointed Eric P. Grant yesterday to succeed Don Jensen as the California Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board's executive director.

Jensen leaves March 31 to become a Ford Motor Co. engineer. Grant was his assistant.

EXPERT CLEARS REAGAN, CHRISTOPHER ON DEAL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Ronald Reagan and George Christopher broke no election laws in their reported agreement concerning the Republican gubernatorial nomination, the legislature's chief lawyer reports.

Yesterday's Legislative Counsel opinion was requested by Assemblyman Don A. Allen, D-Los Angeles, chairman of the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

Allen's group was considering an investigation into the alleged agreement in which the GOP candidate with the least strength in a public opinion poll was supposed to withdraw. Reagan denied the deal, but Christopher didn't and neither has left the race.

GOLDEN GATE FIELDS OPENS TOMORROW! (with richer purses and $1,000,000 in improvements)

Looking for action? Come to Golden Gate Fields! It's the most exciting playground for adults in all of Northern California...totally redecorated to make it one of the most lavish tracks in the country. NOTE: the man above is one of Golden Gate's Cashiers who last year paid over $35,500,000 to holders of winning tickets. Action? You can bet on it!

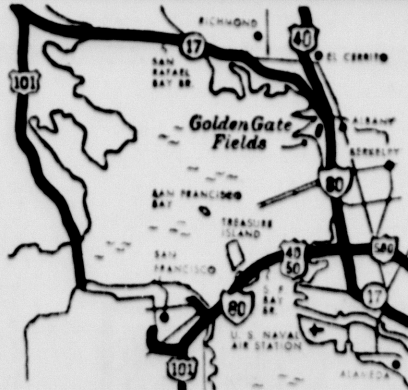

Escalators! But one of many improvements at Golden Gate. Use them between the Clubhouse, Grandstand and Paddock levels. Save your strength for the walk to the Cashier's window.

When you spend a day at the races, you'll find 4 cocktail lounges, 4 restaurants, 9 refreshment stands, 5 stand-up bars and action. This happens to be the new bar in the Clubhouse, the Winner's Circle Bar. (Check on special group plans for organizations interested in spending a day at the races... in the Clubhouse or Turf Club.)

The private stairway to the Turf Club overlooking the finish line to the east, Golden Gate Bridge to the west, Cocktail lounge, triple-tiered Dining Room, and brand new open-air Terrace. Great food; great view of the races; and a great place for surprise parties or fund-raising events.

Golden Gate Fields is on the East-shore Freeway in Albany. Parking space for 6000 cars (Free shuttle service from Gilman Street lot to Grandstand and Clubhouse-Turf Club entrances. A.C. Transit buses from East Bay and San Francisco; Greyhound Lines from Peninsula and East Bay points; Grey Line from Oakland, San Francisco; Peerless Stages special bus service from San Jose. (Special bus service can be arranged for groups).

San Rafael Driver Dies In Blaze

Roy H. Shulken, 37, of Sebastopol, a truck driver for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael and brother of three Marin County women, died Sunday in a fire which did $8,500 damage to his home and seriously burned his wife.

Schulken was found by firemen on the floor of his upstairs bedroom, where he fell after he was overcome by smoke while trying to get out.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Palm Drive Hospital, Sebastopol, about an hour after the fire was reported at 12:30 a.m.

His wife, Joan Schulken, 35, suffered burns on 75 per cent of her body as she was led downstairs and out through the burning living room by their oldest son, Rick, 15.

She was listed in good condition at the same hospital yesterday.

Firemen said the family was

Community Zone Law Changes On Agenda

A special meeting of directors of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs to discuss possible amendments to the county's planned community zone ordinance has been called for 8 p.m. today in room 209 of the Civic Center.

County Planning Director Paul Zucker and planning consultants Warren Callister and Philip Buskirk are scheduled to speak asleep when the fire broke out downstairs. The family's six children, some of whom were sleeping downstairs, were awakened by the smoke. They awakened their parents and summoned help.

The blaze may have been caused by an iron which had been left on the ironing board, according to the Graton Volunteer Fire Department.

A native of San Francisco, Schulken spent most of his life in that city until he moved to Sebastopol about eight years ago. He went to work for PG&E 17 years ago in San Francisco, transferring to San Rafael when he moved to Sebastopol.

He was a member of Educators Lodge 554, Free and Accepted Masons.

Surviving are his wife; four sons, Rick, Rand, Robby and Scott Schulken, and two daughters, Kim and Kelly Schulken, all of Sebastopol; four sisters, Mrs. Patricia Eager of Kent Woodlands, Mrs. June Rasmussen of San Anselmo, Mrs. Shirley Fischer of Larkspur and Mrs. Gloria Muldoon of San Francisco; and a brother, Henry Schulken of San Mateo.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Anny Funeral Chapel, 301 South Main Street, Sebastopol. Burial will be in Sebastopol Cemetery. Donations to the family may be sent in care of Thomas F. Miller at the funeral home.

Chase Ends In Citation For Youth

Belvedere police yesterday cited a 19-year-old College of Marin student for speeding, not stopping for a red light and passing on a dangerous curve after he was chased down winding Tiburon Boulevard to Highway 101 at speeds above 65 miles per hour.

Officer William P. Burst reported that a sheriff's deputy, alerted by radio, finally stopped Clark C. Woolston, 19, of 34 Rock Road, Kentfield, at 6:30 p.m. as the youth's sports car headed north on Highway 101 near the H. Koch and Sons luggage factory in Corte Madera.

Burst said he clocked the youth's car at 65 miles per hour in a heavily traveled 35-mile zone. He said that the youth told him he had seen the policeman's blinking red light but thought it was for someone else "because it was so far behind him."

Military Pay Rise Put Forth In Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. L. Mendel Rivers has offered a military pay-raise bill that would give the military the same 3.2 per cent increase as the administration has proposed for federal civilian workers.

Rivers, a South Carolina Democrat who heads the House Armed Services Committee, has stipulated, however, that the military raise would be contingent on passage of the civilian bill.

Volunteer Collections Go To Hospital Fund

Directors of the Marin General Hospital District last night agreed to new rules giving the hospital administration more control over money raised by volunteers.

In the future, with few exceptions, money raised by various volunteer groups will be placed in a single fund, and purchases of hospital equipment from that fund will be made by the hospital.

In the past, the hospital staff submitted a list of priorities on equipment purchases, but the volunteer groups, which raised the funds, sometimes picked a low priority item because it held special interest for them.

The new policy, passed unanimously with the agreement of the volunteer council, will have expenditure of volunteer funds authorized by the district board, although volunteer council approval must be also given for the purchase.

Representing the volunteers at the meeting were council chairman Mrs. Robert McKendry, finance officer Eleanor Beales and council member Mrs. E. E. Cooper.

The board also ruled that in the future all publicity about the volunteers at Marin General Hospital will be channeled through the office of the director of volunteers, Mrs. Sali Kelley, a member of the hospital staff.

The director's post was also discussed, and the board set a policy that Mrs. Kelley would be under supervision of the hospital administrator, William W. Turner, but would carry out the policies of the volunteers' council.

The new volunteer fund program will go into effect July 1. Three funds, those for pediatrics, the book cart and scholarships, were excepted, as were monies collected by two branches.

Money raised by the Poplar Branch will continue to be used to finance cobalt bomb radiation treatment, and that raised by the Raccoon Branch boat trip will be used for out-patient surgery.

All other money raised by volunteers will go into a single bank account. Turner and hospital district attorney Harold R. Riede were instructed to rewrite the bylaws for the volunteers to comply with the new policy.

The board also ruled that the volunteers should pay their own office expenses in the future.

Soldiers May Get Anti-Tank Missiles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army has given the green light to development plans for an anti-tank missile that can be fired from a foot soldier's shoulder.

McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, Mo., was given a $485,000 contract yesterday for development of the weapon known as MAW (medium antitank assault weapon).

Base Slaying Report Eyed By Officials

The written report from the examining officer on the pre-court martial hearing of A/IC James O. Young on a charge of murder was received yesterday afternoon by Col. Ralph M. Wanderer Jr., base commander at Hamilton Air Force Base, and was sent to the 28th Air Division judge advocate's office for study.

The report was prepared by Maj. James E. Greene, judge advocate of Travis Air Force Base, who conducted the hearing which ended Feb. 24.

It will take one or two weeks for the judge advocate to prepare a written formal advice on the report before sending it to Maj. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin, 28th Air Division commander, to determine whether Young will face a general court martial.

Airman Young was accused of the murder early Christmas Morning of A/IC Robert M. Jennings in their barracks after a drinking party.

Indonesia Military Demands Ouster Of Pro-Red Minister

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Indonesian army has given President Sukarno an ultimatum to get rid of his pro-Communist Foreign Minister Subandrio and has demanded an answer by Saturday, reliable sources in Singapore reported today.

Sukarno is expected to announce his decision at a meeting with the armed forces chiefs at his palace in Bogor, 40 miles outside Jakarta, the sources said.

The army chiefs who have demanded Subandrio's ouster are mostly supporters of former Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution whom Sukarno fired last month.

Subandrio has been accused unofficially of having been behind last October's Communist coup attempt. His name was on a list of ministers published by the coup leaders but he has denied that he had anything to do with the coup.

The army crushed the coup and launched a violent anti-Communist campaign which caused Sukarno to fire Nasution. His ouster brought on demonstrations by anti-Communist students which have been mainly directed against Subandrio.

About 200 students rammed a truck through a wall around the Communist Chinese Embassy today, broke all its windows and burned its documents, the Singapore sources said.

The students also punctured tires of embassy vehicles, the sources said. A Malaysian government radio broadcast in Kuala Lumpur said no Chinese officials were reported harmed.

Lucas Green Annex Special Meeting Off

There will be no special meeting of the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission to consider the application for re-hearing on the proposed Lucas Green annexation to San Rafael.

The commission last Thursday put off the decision to a special session, but commission executive officer John F. Barrows said today he cannot muster a full commission until the next regular meeting, April 7.

Sarnow, a sophomore majoring in accounting, is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School.

Car Firm Admits Probing Of Critic

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. admitted last night it has been investigating the auto industry's chief critic, Ralph Nader, who testified recently before a Senate subcommittee.

The G. M. statement came within hours after a Ford Motor Co., vice president sent a telegram to Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., denying his company had anything to do with alleged harassment or intimidation of the 31-year-old author of the controversial book "Unsafe at Any Speed."

Nader's complaints about unsafe automobiles has prompted Sens. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and Ribicoff to ask the Justice Department for an investigation of Nader was prompted by his "extreme criticism of the Corvair in his writings, press conferences, TV and other public appearances."

The automotive company said it had hired a Washington law firm to initiate a routine investigation to "determine whether Ralph Nader was acting on behalf of litigants or their attorneys in Corvair design cases pending against General Motors."

The statement said the investigation was limited only to Nader's "qualifications, background, expertise and association with such attorneys and did not include any of the alleged harassment or intimidation recently reported in the press."

Tuesday Ribicoff, who heads the auto safety subcommittee, said an investigation should be conducted into the harassment charges.

Ribicoff cited news reports detailing an intensive investigation of the auto critic by private detectives, implying "there is some connection between Mr. Nader's testimony and the alleged harassment—that someone wants either to discredit Mr. Nader or induce him not to testify further."

Nader has said he believed the investigation might have been ordered to impugn his standing before Congress. He is scheduled to appear again at hearings on President Johnson's bill to set nationwide safety standards for motor vehicles.

4-H Field Day To Have Contest

A talent contest, demonstrations, illustrated talks and a live animal show will be features of the annual field day of 4-H Club members of Marin County at Marion School, Novato, March 19 at 9:30 a.m.

Taking part will be Marin Mounted, Miwok, Nicasio, Novato Aggies, Novato Jets, Novato Olompali, Novato Valley, Point Reyes-Olema, Tomales, San Rafael and Tri-Valley 4-H clubs.

Awards will be presented after the talent contest and members receiving gold seals will be eligible to enter the regional field day on the University of California campus at Davis May 14.

Russians Aim High For Next Space Flight

MOSCOW (UPI) — Blackie and Breeze, Russia's orbiting canines, have paved the way for a new space spectacular this month that will take Russian cosmonauts three times higher than man has ever flown, informed sources said today.

The two dogs, now in their 19th day in orbit around the earth, have proved it is safe for Soviet spacemen to soar into the Van Allen belts of heavy radiation more than 500 miles above the earth, the sources said.

The sources added that Blackie and Breeze will be returned to earth soon and are to be followed into orbit within the next 20 days by two or more men in the record-breaking space flight.

The planned space shot—the first Russian manned flight in a year—will be intended to break all orbital altitude records and may go for the two-week endurance record held by the United States, they said.

Each year Shakespeare's plays are presented on a portable stage at the approximate site of the Globe Theater in London where his plays were first presented.

Pentagon Praising Negro Fighting G.I.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials are praising the Negro as a gallant, hard-fighting soldier. New figures show that proportionately more Negroes have died in Viet Nam than military personnel of other races.

One spokesman said the Negro "has shown himself at least as worthy a fighter as the next man."

The Defense Department yesterday provided figures from what it called a "one-time survey" which showed Negroes suffering a higher number of deaths, proportionately speaking, in the Southeast Asian conflict.

The survey showed that Negroes make up 14.8 per cent of the Army force in Viet Nam, but have suffered 18.3 per cent of the deaths since January 1961.

By the same token, Negroes comprise 8.9 per cent of the Marine total in Viet Nam but have suffered 11.3 per cent of the casualties.

Officials emphasized that Negroes are not singled out for hazardous missions in battle areas. Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, recently told inquiring Southern senators the same thing during hearings on additional funds for the Viet Nam war.

Poor Condition

Mrs. Norma Jean De Curtoni, 53, of 174 Calle Del Arroyo, Stinson Beach, was in "poor condition" today at Marin General Hospital after she reportedly took an overdose of pills. United Ambulance was called at about 8 a.m. to take Mrs. De Curtoni to the hospital.

She Battles Bandits, But They Leave With Diamonds

OAKLAND (AP) — Mrs. Lois Bozant, a watchmaker, swung twice with a foot-long metal to halt a $500,000 jewelry robbery.

She hit one of three neatly dressed bandits on the back, but all she got for it was a bump on the forehead, where the robber struck her with his gun.

Wearing gloves, the three bandits herded employees into the basement and then forced firm president Arthur Licht to open a safe from which he said they

Sonoma Unification Is Voted Down

SANTA ROSA—A proposal to make one unified school district out of 10 districts in Sonoma County was soundly trounced at the polls Tuesday.

With only 16 per cent of eligible voters turning out, the unification was defeated by 5,352 "no" to 747 "yes."

The proposal was to form a single unified district, operating all elementary and high schools, of Santa Rosa High School District and Mark West, Piner-Olivet, Wright, Roseland, Bellevue, Rincon Valley, Kenwood, Bennett Valley and Santa Rosa elementary school districts. Most of the districts involved are small rural districts.

Defoliation Program Explained, Defended

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The State Department says that only one-third of 1 per cent of South Viet Nam's croplands have been involved in defoliation projects to deny food to Communist forces.

A department statement yesterday on the operations was the most complete explanation so far of the controversial program and its aims and safeguards.

The department said the 20,000 acres of croplands that had been affected by the program did not include jungle and underbrush that has been defoliated to deny cover to the Communists. Officials said they could not estimate the acreage involved in that phase of the program.

WANTS TO FOLLOW DAD—Stephen Bigley, 17, whose father was killed in Viet Nam while serving in the green beret Special Forces, tells an Army recruiter in Chicago today that he wants to go to paratroop school and earn the honor of serving in the green berets, too. (AP Wirephoto)

Teen-Ager Wants To Wear Green Beret Like Father

CHICAGO (AP) — Sgt. 1/c George C. Bigley was killed in combat in Viet Nam with a green beret Special Forces unit. Now his son, Stephen, 17, wants to join the green berets there.

But not for vengeance, Stephen says.

"I don't feel mad in any way," the youth said. "I just want to do my part. I don't want anyone to think I'm going for my dad. I'm going over for everybody."

Bigley, who won his mother's reluctant permission to enlist, has been accepted for airborne training. His prime ambition, he said yesterday, is to earn the right to wear the green beret, the symbol of the Army Special Forces unit to which his father belonged.

"My dad always wanted me to go to West Point," Stephen said. "But I don't have it in me anymore."

"I just want to prove to dad that if I can't make West Point I can still make it somewhere else. I'm not going to be a bum."

Stephen was living with his mother in a house trailer at Fort Campbell, Ky., when word came that his father had been killed Jan. 3, 1965, in a Viet Cong attack.

The family returned to Chicago and Stephen entered a local high school.

"I didn't like it," he said. "I had too much on my mind because of dad."

So he dropped out of school and enlisted.

His father, a veteran of Army service in many parts of the world, served in the Italian campaign in World War II. He was a member of Darby's Rangers, a paratrooper and an expert marksman. He held three Purple Hearts and three Bronze Stars.

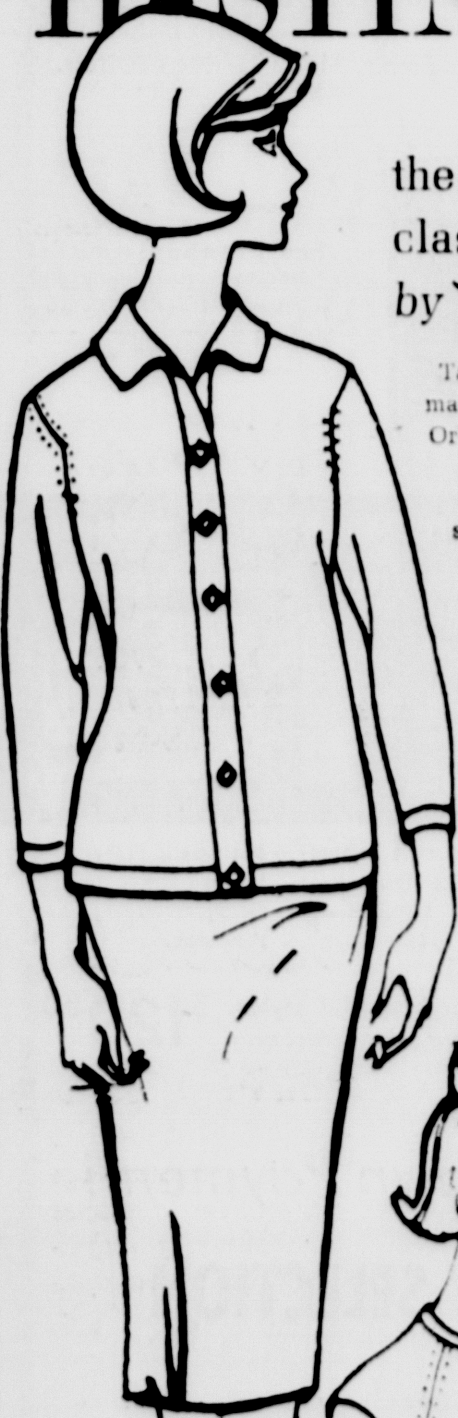

"He was good at everything," his son said.

"I'm not for it," his mother said after her son passed his qualification tests. "But if that's what he wants."

Driver Fined

Wilbur Charles Maisak, 54, of Tiburon, was fined $220 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested on Tiburon Boulevard by sheriff's officers Saturday.

'Easter Elegance' Benefit Scheduled At Sutton School

"Easter Elegance" is the theme of the fashion show and dance to be held at Lu Sutton School at 8 p.m. on March 18, sponsored by the Lu Sutton Parent-Teacher Assn. in Novato.

Mrs. L. A. Wicht, president of the P-TA, will be commentator for the evening as well as chairman. Mrs. Charles Woodie is in charge of models, including Mesdames Robert Gallion, F. M. Dimmick, Ralph Buckwalter, Robert Vaughan, Robert Holman, Thomas Lindgren, Robert Henning, Ray Monson, James Sharpe, Donald Bresnahan, Robert Diamond and Sheridan

Moats.

Music will be provided by seven young musicians from the University of California band who have formed their own musical group and are donating their services.

Proceeds from the fashion show-dance will benefit the Novato-La Paz Project, the North Marin Council P-TA - sponsored project to pay for transportation for students from La Paz, B.C., Mexico, to spend the summer session in Novato teaching Spanish to students.

Mrs. Moats is ticket chairman.

Historical Novel To Be Reviewed By Rev. Gaskell

The historical novel, "The Proud Tower", by Barbara Tuchman will be reviewed by the Rev. Benton Gaskell at 2 p.m. on March 17 at the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon.

The book review is the third in a series of five given by Dr. Gaskell for the women's fellowship of the church. Author Tuchman is best known for her Pulitzer prize winning non-fiction account of the beginning of World War I, "The Guns of August". "Proud Tower" deals with the political and cultural climate of Europe and America before 1914.

Mrs. Frank Neer is program chairman and reservations chairman. Tea will be served following the review. City Chapter of Meals For Millions will join with the San Francisco Chapter to present Festivities including dinner and dancing will begin at 7 p.m., when party-goers will find the side wheeler transformed into a Nevada-style club.

Mrs. Frank Brown of Greenbrae, president of the Marin Chapter, is county chairman for the event. Assisting her are Mrs. Richard Murray, the group's vice president; Les Barlow, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Hoxie, programming; and Mrs. Sandra Glazanov, publicity.

Also working on the event are Bill Thompson, Alex Consagra, the Rev. Francis Scanlon, and Mesdames Les Barlow, Maxine Roche, and Isabel Semolic.

Proceeds from the affair will be used to help the San Francisco Chapter combat malnutrition in Mexico and to assist the Marin Committee in establishing a self-supporting multi-purpose food plant in Doule, Ecuador.

Reservations chairmen for Southern and Central Marin are Mr. Thompson, and for Northern Marin, Mr. Barlow.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Captain's Homecoming Party

By MOLLY MARIN

A decorated infantry captain, who will return to Marin this weekend after a year of service in Viet Nam, will be honored at a welcome home party in San Rafael on March 19.

Capt. Vance Sutley and his wife, Jean, of San Rafael, will be honored guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Laufenberg, 100 Bayo Vista Way, San Rafael. About a dozen friends will attend the welcome home party. Captain Sutley, a member of the 45th Infantry Regiment, 23rd Division received the Bronze Star in Viet Nam last December. His last military engagement before his reassignment to the states was in the defense of hill positions in Darlac against a Viet Cong battalion. Captain Sutley's new station is in Fort Ord. He and his family will move to Fort Ord within a few weeks.

Col. and Mrs. Ralph Wanderer Jr. have invited a number of Marin couples to attend a theater party at Hamilton Air Force Base on Saturday. Colonel Wanderer is base commander at Hamilton. Guests have been invited to the Officers' Club at 6:30 p.m., for cocktails to be followed by dinner. The guests and Officers' Club members and their ladies will then go on to the theater where the comedy fantasy "Heaven Can Wait" will be presented by the Hamilton and Terra Linda little theatre groups. Dancing at the club will follow the presentation of the play.

THE SAN FRANCISCO YACHT CLUB will have a St. Patrick's party Saturday. The dinner-dance at the Belvedere club-

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Outcry Of Teen-Ager—What Do You Do With Blackmailing Mom?

DEAR HELEN:
What do you do with a mother who blackmails you? Mine does. It all started when I got a job after school, babysitting. Everything I do or don't do, she holds this over me, saying she'll make me quit my job. She knows I need the money since I buy all my own clothes and school supplies, etc. I do my share of the work at home, sometimes more than my share. Any suggestions? — SOON BROKE

DEAR SOON BROKE:
I'm sure both you and your mother realize she's talking up a storm about something you could settle in a breeze if you'd discuss instead of argue. She may think you have taken on too much, but, to you, her worry sounds like blackmail. You resent it because she nags and doesn't brag, and I can't blame you here: a girl who earns her own clothes and spending money deserves a whole lot of praise.

Why don't you two sit down and work out your hours for sitting, study, chores — and fun. Show your mother that you can manage this job without really hurting and I think she'll turn off the storm. —H.

DEAR HELEN:
I am a sophomore in high school and am taking Earth science. In our book are a couple of chapters on the scientific creation of the world. My religion opposes this, saying only the Lord could create. I believe this and when we had a test on it and there was a question on our creation, I put down "The Biblical Story." For that I got a failing mark and a demerit for insubordination.

I think this is unfair, but I did not tell my parents because I don't want to see the teacher in trouble. There must be others with this problem. What did they do? — FUNDAMENTALIST

DEAR FUN:
You might have said, "According to the textbook, the theory of evolution is..." This way you could keep your beliefs intact, while still reporting what scientists have written.—H.

DEAR HELEN:
You tell NBP indirectly not to take the easy way out of the dilemma of her illegitimate baby by marrying either of the boys — (the reluctant father, or the noble friend she doesn't love). Then you advise her to take a still easier way out by abandoning her child to strangers.

If she gives it up, it may be knocked around or mistreated. It's at least half her fault that the baby is coming into the world and she is responsible for bringing it up. She would do better to marry one of the two boys, try honestly and conscientiously to make the marriage a success and, if it doesn't work, get a divorce. At least the child would have a name and she would have the child. Perhaps meeting her obligation would make her more mature. Shrinking it certainly won't! — ARA

DEAR A:
"This easy way out" has nothing to do with the problem of unwed motherhood. Most important consideration is "What is best for the child," and, believe me, adoptive parents hardly ever turn out wrong — they're too well screened! Next most important consideration is "Will this marriage be a waste?" If so, three people may end up losers.

It's never easy for a girl to give up her baby. But sometimes it's much more sensible. —H.

Bay Area Artists Chosen For Hadassah Art Exhibit

"The Jew In Art" will be the theme of a slide and art exhibit to be held on Tuesday at Temple Rodef Sholom in Santa Venetia. The Marin Chapter of Hadassah is sponsoring the event, which is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m.

Outstanding artists from the Bay Area will be represented by Baila Feldman, Ada Garfinkle, Joyce Goldstein, Jiri Herrmann, Lisa Lazar, Daniel Lieberman, Sonya Rapoport and Seth Wood. These artists have been chosen for their excellence in various art forms including painting, jewelry design, architecture, pottery and sculpture.

Fifty color slides have been prepared for the show, which will highlight works by Rembrandt, Reubens, Michelangelo, Degas and Renoir. A narration for the slides will be given by Mrs. Greshon Kekst. Chairmen for this event include the Mesdames Charles Lawrenz, Walter Fink and Charles Bloom.

Sandra Draper Bride Of Charles Welch

Sandra Joyce Draper of Novato became the bride of Charles Daniel Welch on March 4 when Bishop C. Ray Leininger officiated at the double ring ceremony at the church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Greenbrae.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman L. Draper of Novato. She wore a bouffant floor length gown of white slipper satin trimmed with Alencon lace. Jacques Reynolds, her maid of honor, wore a dress of blue and silver silk brocade. The bride's niece, Rebecca Reynolds, served as flower girl. Charles, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Welch of Holly Hill, S. C. was attended by Russell W. Decker. Ushers were Berton Mattice and Robert Maxsom. The bridegroom and his attendants are all serving in the U.S. Army stationed at Lucas Valley.

Sandra attended College of Marin and Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah. She is the sister of Mrs. David B. Estes of Novato, Mrs. L. O. Reynolds of Corte Madera and Sherman D. Draper of Novato. The bridegroom is the brother of Maria and Donald Welch of Holly Hill, S. C.

The couple plan a honeymoon to South Carolina in April to meet the bridegroom's family.

Don Frazzini To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Karst of Denver, Colo., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Karen, to Don B. Frazzini, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Frazzini of San Rafael.

The bride-elect was graduated from Colorado State University, where Gamma Phi Beta was her sorority.

The future bridegroom is a senior in business administration at Colorado State.

A June wedding is planned.

Christian Women Plan Style Show

The Marin County Christian Women's Club will hold a luncheon meeting and fashion show at 11:45 a.m., on March 18 at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Also featured on the program will be John and Betty Walker, village missionaries from Granada, who will present the music and a project report.

Mesdames Harold Sander, Charles Kenner and Robert Farrell are reservations chairmen.

Registration for the spring session of the Women's Slim Trim program sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Dept. will be held on Wednesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m., in the old gymnasium at San Rafael High School.

Protein For Beauty

Want to be lovely? Try protein. There's nothing better for skin, hair and nails according to the latest news from beautyland. The multi-billion dollar cosmetics industry has stamped into the protein market with all sorts of animal- and milk-derived preparations.

Proteins serve two purposes in cosmetics. Most form films that hold the hair in place, prevent drying of skin, etc.; and some are "sorbed" into the hair shaft, helping to invigorate hair damaged by bleaching and permanent waving.

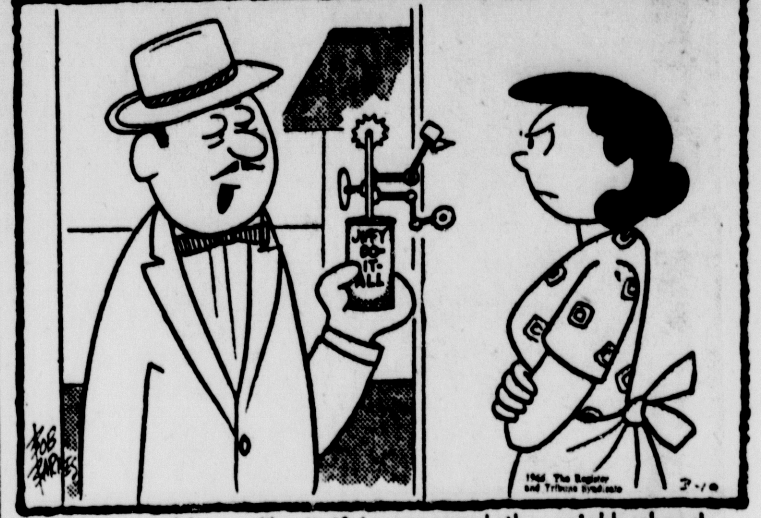

Early drawbacks of protein, a heavy animal scent and cloudy films, have been overcome. The protein preparations—providing body without artificiality—stand to flourish at least as long as the natural look dominates the fashion and cosmetics scene.

Judith Stewart Bride Of Charles Douglas Carpenter

The First Baptist Church of Novato was the setting Saturday of the marriage of Judith Louise Stewart and Charles Douglas Carpenter. The Rev. Wayne Jarboe performed the double ring ceremony.

Judith was given in marriage by her father, Earl L. Stewart of Novato. She wore a floor length gown of lace with a tiered skirt and embroidered with sequins.

The bride's sister, Jacqueline Stewart was her maid of honor, wearing a floor length gown with skirt of peau de soie and bodice of flowered brocade in pink pastel. Cynthia Hiatt and Ann Lagoni were the bridesmaids. They wore matching gowns of pastel green. Michelle Phillippi, cousin of the bride, also of Novato, was the flower girl.

Larry A. Stewart, brother of the bride, served as best man for Charles. James Jagger and David Williams, both serving with Charles at Hamilton Air Force Base were ushers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norval S. Carpenter of Rancho Cordova. He is the brother of David Carpenter, serving in the Marine Corps, now in Viet Nam. He was graduated from Sacramento High School and attended American River Junior College in Folsom.

The bride was graduated from Novato High School and attended college of Marin. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McCoy and Mrs. J.R. Stewart of Novato.

The couple will make their home in Novato.

Guild Plans Film Showing

Sunny Hills Guild will sponsor a second anniversary showing of the film "The Sound of Music" at 8:30 p.m. on March 17 at the United Artists Theater in San Francisco. The picture stars Julie Andrews and Christopher Plummer.

Mrs. Willis Clark Jr., president of the guild's governing council of Sunny Hills, said she is accepting reservations for the show with part of the proceeds of each ticket benefitting the guild.

Bethels To Visit On Tuesday Night

Negroes Tell Powell Of Poverty War Lacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a few strides, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell moved from his lofty perch as a chairman questioning Cabinet officers about the antipovety program to a shouting, face-to-face meeting with the poor.

They were waiting in a big room alongside the hearing room of Powell's House Education and Labor Committee. Powell, a New York Democrat, left John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, in the witness seat to go talk to them.

They were from Bedford-Stuyvesant and Harlem, Negro areas in Brooklyn and Manhattan, and represented two or three groups which had applied for antipovety funds. They had been at him earlier about money they wanted from the poverty program and he had promised to come back.

"I've got good news," he cried as he entered the room. "A member of the federal government has just gotten on a plane with a check for $200,000 for the Head Start program in Bedford-Stuyvesant."

They applauded, shouted and crowded around and the ring of policemen in the room moved closer, too.

Powell, the Baptist preacher, took over from Powell, the congressman, and began a talk about the need for dignity and pride in Negroes. "Think big! Think black!" he said, and the crowd responded with claps and rhythmic shouts.

But the revival meeting atmosphere was shattered by a big woman who pushed her way up to Powell and started shouting louder than he.

"What about all these policemen? This is terrible. This is an armed camp. Everywhere we go there are policemen. We're not criminals."

Before Powell could regain control the room erupted with the angry, urgent voices of the poor, accusing Powell of favoring jobs over community action in the poverty program.

"Jobs aren't a big deal. If industry doesn't open up jobs for a man he still doesn't have anything. We need community action. We need pressure."

They were all talking at once. Only the loudest could be heard. "Brother Powell, why don't you stress human rights instead of civil rights? We want to eat."

"What about Mississippi? They don't have clothes to send their kids to school. We got to raise clothes for them."

"You should investigate urban renewal. It's just Negro removal. We need money to fight the power structure that's trying to move us out."

"Turn us loose from the red tape."

Richard F. Gade of 222 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, has been appointed the United Bay Area Crusade's community relations associate for Contra Costa County.

This was announced by Raymond E. Baarts, executive director of the United Bay Area Crusade.

Gade until recently was the editor of Marin Guide Publications. He has had some 28 years experience in the advertising-public relations fields.

Dixie Police Use Tear Gas On Marchers

HERTFORD, N.C. (AP) — Authorities used tear gas and fire hoses to disperse about 200 Negro demonstrators last night.

Police said 30 persons were arrested for parading without a permit and released on $50 bond each. No injuries were reported.

Three highway patrolmen were struck by flying objects, but none required treatment.

Hertford is an agricultural community of about 2,500 on the Perquimans River near the coast. It is 17 miles southwest of Elizabeth City. The area has a large Negro population.

The violence broke out as police loaded demonstrators on a prison department bus.

The march was called by civil rights leader Golden Frinks of Edenton to protest "the power structure's refusal to conduct good faith negotiations." Frinks was one of those arrested.

The Negroes are demanding a 14-point program, including the hiring of Negro policemen, deputy sheriffs and store clerks.

Rev. F. L. Andrews, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Edenton, also arrested, said Negroes are "dissatisfied with the way Hertford and Perquimans County are responding to our recommendations."

Mayor V. N. Darden, who also is police chief, said the Negroes earlier in the day refused to ask for a parade permit, but later sought one.

"I told them it was too late then," he said.

The mayor called for police reinforcements when he said Frinks told him the protest march would be held "permit or no permit."

The fighting broke out shortly after 10 p.m. when the 200 persons marched out of the First Baptist Church, down the sidewalk and onto the main street.

Police arrested 30 marchers and told the others to return to their homes. When they refused, firemen, with three hoses ready, sprayed the crowd.

The Negroes hid behind buildings and began throwing things.

The patrolmen, carrying long night sticks, moved into the middle of the fight and fired tear gas. The crowd dispersed.

A record 2,165,000 tourists visited Britain last year, 674,000 of them from the United States.

Lumbermen Sound Off Against Park Proposal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A timber firm spokesman declared yesterday, "We are fighting for our economic survival" in opposing a large redwoods national park.

Speaking was Don Cave, Eureka stockbroker and chairman of the Redwood Park and Recreation Committee, which is financed by timber interests in Humboldt and Del Norte counties.

Cave said the loss in wages at $8 million a year a 90,000 acres, advocated by conservation and recreation groups. H. D. Kreager, Seattle industrial economist who made a study for Cave's organization, said a big park would throw lumbermen out of work in both counties and reduce tax valuations.

He contended a large park would not attract enough money-spending visitors to take up the slack. He estimated the loss in wages at $8 million a year a

Africa Exchange Study Suggested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Its president says the University of California should be interested in exchange programs with African universities.

yesterday to reporters after returning from a visit to his son, Edgar, 22, who is with the Peace Corps in Nigeria.

Other British and American colleges have ties with African institutions, he said, and "if federal funds were available, UC ought to be interested in doing that in Africa."

manager, told the directors that this project was scheduled for funding this year but was deleted "along with many other appropriations because of the country's war effort."

Directors also approved plans and specifications for the district's annual supply of pipe and called for bids to be submitted by March 23.

Seeger told directors that the district will need 80,000 feet of cast iron pipe during the next year. He estimated the cost at $190,000.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Agreed to purchase three pickup trucks and one sedan from Ames Ford for $8,133.14.

2. Heard from Seeger that promoters of a railroad up Mount Tamalpais are ready to discuss specifics of the plan with him next week before appearing at a board meeting.

3. Agreed to enter into a pipeline agreement for the addition of a hall of justice wing at the County Civic Center at a cost of $45,240 to the County of Marin.

4. Agreed to establish water service to the clubhouse at the San Geronimo Valley National Golf Course when paid $6,897.

Drama Of War To Be Staged In Novato

"The Diary of Anne Frank," a play based on a Jewish girl's diary written while in hiding from the Nazis during German occupation of The Netherlands in World War II, will be presented by the drama department of Novato High School at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday in the old gymnasium at the high school.

The play, directed by H. J. Sussner, head of the drama department, will also be presented at the same hour Friday and Saturday next week.

The cast includes Maggie Baker, Jan Bueler, Pieter Den Heijer, Peter Engstrom, Franca Hernandez, Linda Johnston, Thad Marks, Pat Mayhew, Ted Remak, and Don Rosenberg.

Considerable effort has been made to make the settings for this play as authentic as possible, Sussner said. William Luft, arts and crafts teacher, drew on his memory of his visit to the Frank house in Amsterdam when he designed the set. He was also aided by pictures and literature sent from the Anne Frank Foundation.

Jon Den Heijer, father of Pieter Den Heijer an exchange student at Novato High School from The Netherlands and a member of that cast, sent Dutch newspapers. The Netherlands state institute for war documentation sent an authentic Star of David patch such as the Dutch Jews were forced to wear by the Nazi occupation forces.

Luft has constructed a massive set depicting a two-story, four-level attic of the warehouse in Amsterdam in which the Franks and the Van Daans hid for two years.

COAT FOR CIGARETTES—In one of the tense scenes from "The Diary of Anne Frank" Peter Den Heijer as Mr. Van Daan fights with his wife, (Maggie Baker) for her fur coat as Mr. Frank (Peter Engstrom) looks on. Van Daan takes the coat away from his wife and sells it to buy cigarettes.

San Domenico Sets Concert By Violinist

Violinist Austin Reller will present the next concert in the cultural series of the San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow next Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the music pavilion. He will also give an informal talk.

Reller grew up in Berkeley and San Francisco and studied with Naoum Blinder, making his debut in 1962 with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. He is a winner of the University of California Hertz Award for two years' study in Europe, and made several concert tours there. On March 23, 24 and 25 he will play the Bartok Violin Concerto with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

Officer At Airborne Training School

Second Lt. Chester A. Hibbert Jr., son of Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Chester A. Hibbert of 71 Lambert Way, Novato, has been graduated from the Army Artillery and Missile Officers' Candidate School at Fort Sill, Okla.

He is now taking an airborne training course at Fort Benning, Ga., and will be assigned to the Fourth Infantry Division at Fort Lewis, Wash. on completion of the course. He has seen service in Korea and Germany.

Tires, Wheels Theft Reported

Burglars scaled a seven-foot, barbed wire-topped fence to steal five automobile tires and wheels from Mill Valley Volkswagen, 900 Redwood Highway, Strawberry, sheriff's officers reported today.

Deputies said the new cars arrived only Monday and were stored within the fenced area.

Cardie M. Garcia, apartment manager at 6 Tamal Vista, Strawberry, told officers someone entered the apartments' washroom, broke open a washing machine coin box, and stole about $2.50 in change.

Minimum Wage, Jobless Money Urged In Farm Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Church Council, which represents large protestant denominations, says farm workers should be accorded protection under the National Labor Relations Act.

The body announced in a statement yesterday that it supports the California Migrant Ministry and its role in the Delano grape pickers' labor dispute.

The migrant ministry is an agency of the council.

Dr. Paul Sheldorf, executive director of the council, said the council studied the Delano controvery from all sides and decided to remain with the workers "through their trials and to support them in their search for justice and dignity."

The report said growers receive benefits from government programs, such as the Department of Agriculture and the university extension services. The report recommended that farm workers be allowed to benefit from social legislation in the field of unemployment compensation and minimum wages.

It stressed that workers should be included under the collective bargaining provisions of the National Labor Relations Act.

The council defended the migrant ministry, under fire by some churches for its active support of the Delano grape workers, by saying the migrant ministers have made a "vital witness and have been a strong force for non-violence."

The Delano strike began in September. It involves union demands for higher wages, better working conditions and union recognition as a bargaining agent.

New Organ's Debut Set

Wilbur F. Russell, organist-choir director at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo, will give his first public recital on the new Leonard William Buck Memorial organ on March 20 at 4 p.m. Admission is free.

Works to be performed are: Prelude and Fugue, Nicholas Bruhns; Chorale Partita on "Was Gott Tut," Johann Pachelbel; Prelude and Fugue in D Major, J. S. Bach; Sonata No. 6, Mendelssohn; Chorale Prelude No. 1, Roger Sessions; Three Chorals, Helmut Walcha; Prelude and Fugue in G Minor, Marcel Dupre; and Allegro and Scherzo, Beethoven.

Concert Slated

Marin City pianist George Duke's trio will present a concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. The program will include two originals by Duke, including a new one titled "Nuances for Piano, Bass and Drums."

Employment Record Is Set

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Bay Area employment reached 1,228,600 in February, a record for that month, the California Department of Employment reports.

The unemployment figure was 66,800 for February, the lowest for the month in six years.

Albert B. Tieburg, the department director, said the increase in employment of 41,900 over the total for February, 1964, was accounted for largely in government, service and retail trade.

But, he said, "every major industry division employed more workers than one year ago."

Organ Concert, Meeting Slated

A concert by Alex Post and meeting of the San Francisco chapter of the American Guild of Organists are scheduled on March 22 at 8:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

Post, who is dean of the chapter, associate professor of music at San Francisco State College, and organist at the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco, will perform a 45-minute program of contemporary works.

This will be open free to the public, according to Wilbur F. Russell, organist-choir director at the church. The meeting, for members only, will be held after the program in the fireside room of the church.

Ross Driver Hurt In Shoreline Crash

Dzintars Kozlowski, 25, of Laurel Grove Avenue, Ross, suffered face and leg cuts at 9:10 p.m. yesterday when the car he was driving skidded off Shoreline Highway near its intersection with Highway 101 and slammed into a utility pole.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Kozlowski was westbound when his car skidded on a sharp curve. He was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Marin's Bridges Reflect Change

LIGHTS OF A BAY SPAN — Marin, a county of hills and waterways, has many bridges besides the famous Golden Gate span. The Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, too, can be beautiful when viewed at night with its lights glowing to link those of Marin and Contra Costa counties, as seen in this photo taken from the top of San Rafael Hill by Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean. San Rafael High School and brightly lighted Third Street are in foreground.

CONTRAST OF OLD AND NEW—Bridge building practices of past years are reflected in the open wood structure of the Tiburon trestle of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, a detail of which is seen above, and the old Tocaloma Bridge spanning Paper Mill Creek on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard (above), now replaced by a new bridge nearby which has greater width, cleaner lines—but not the charm of this old span. Typical of modern structures is the massive concrete of the Greenbrae Interchange on Highway 101, a detail of which is shown at right.

PETALUMA RIVER BRIDGE—The bridge linking Marin and Sonoma counties over the Petaluma River is a four-lane concrete span. Its gentle curve reflects the curves of Marin's hills behind it.

SAN ANSELMO BRIDGE—This bucolic looking wood foot bridge in downtown San Anselmo crosses Corte Madera Creek near Bridge

Avenue and gives shoppers a hint of spring with its surrounding trees and wild bushes.
